

Francis Crick

B

Reputation: 7

Impact: 8

Controversy: 4

(1916–2004) Molecular biologist who was deflected from a career in Physics by World War II. After the war, studied Biology and along with his partner James Watson, discovered the double helix structure of DNA, for which they won the 1962 Nobel Prize.